

Ismail Raslan

Heart Failure and Transplant Fellow
University Health Network
Toronto, ON

Ismail Raed Raslan obtained a masters in translational medicine in cardiology from the University of Alberta. Completed residency in internal medicine from McGill university. Cardiology training and chief resident at the University of Toronto.

Currently a chief clinical fellow in Advance heart failure and transplant at the University Health Network in Toronto, ON.